8 Bravo Daydream qualified excellently and is now making his debut almost three months later. Tricky lane, but based on the impression from the qualifier he should still have a good chance of winning together with Per Linderöth. 7 Edswood makes an interesting debut. The Jepson/ Eriksson team are often successful together. 6 It's A Beater is very well-bred as a brother to Panne de Moteur. Has to be considered. 4 Vikens High Jump qualified well and is possible too despite this tricky number.

3 Denniz Popp has shown good speed at the beginning of his career, but has not always been reliable. If he is as good as two starts back, he will be very hard to beat. Jepson for the first time is highly interesting. 4 Global Genzebe has not been reliable either but was strong in the last race and challenges without a mistake. 6 Let's Go Butcher makes his debut for a new trainer and has done quite well so far. Towards the front? 2 Palicka Bob can finish in the top three.

10 Allegra Avanza has done really well under the saddle. Will be ridden by Jonatan Carre this time, which is of course highly interesting. 5 Mago Volante has not competed for a while. This starting method is an advantage and he likes to race under the saddle. Early contender. 2 Simb Rooney was good as third in his debut under the saddle and will be improved by that run under his belt. 12 Jealous Rain has two wins in a row.

9 Fabio Fognini is still undefeated after two starts. Seems very talented and despite this tricky lane, he should have an excellent chance of winning. 6 Ferdinand Ferry was really nice in the last race, even though the opposition was not the toughest. In the fight for victory. 8 Erica Palema made a comeback in the last race after a short break. Nice horse. 1 Monero L.L. could lead this from start to finish.

8 Global Federation has not started for almost three months, so his form is a bit hard to predict. Robert Bergh's horses are usually in good shape straight away and he is used to tougher opponents. Despite this poor lane he should have top chance. 6 Email Address is not at all reliable, but won the last time and was strong. Has to be considered without a mistake. 4 Paul McCartney has been consistent and good most of the time. Should not be overlooked. 3 Son Of My Father is a place bet.

7 Love Me Sjöhammar has found a new level since competing bare-foot. Is a quick starter and the favorite for the lead despite this lane. Considering his last race he should have an excellent chance of winning from that position. 8 Hall Of Fame S is very capable for this class. Tough lane, but if Carl Johan Jepson finds the right way, he should have a good chance. 2 Mint Julep did not convince in the last race, but was good in a sulky race before that. 3 County is a bit tricky but could challenge with the right journey.

5 Amorcino is a bit up and down but shows that he can win from all possible positions when he is at his best. Makes his debut for a new trainer and sounds well prepared. Our pick. 9 Zoncolan is strong and makes an interesting debut for this trainer here. Needs some racing luck but is good enough to win. 7 Arcania S. did well in the last race a bit behind the winner and showed fine form. 9 Obiwan Keeper comes from victory. Was matched in tough company during the summer.
