6. JEWEL DE BANVILLE - Threatening to win and was runner-up in a Class D at Vincennes over 2,700m on 2 October. That was his second run after a rest, his last coming in a Quinté+, and he should be at his peak now. The one concern is the drop in distance

7. IQUEM - Unplaced in a Class D at Laval over 2,850m on 7 November. He did pull off a surprise win in his penultimate start but failed to follow up last time and looks an unlikely contender

8. KAXIG IN - A decent 6th in a Class D over 2,100m at Vincennes on 5 November. That was a good comeback run at this track and having raced against stronger he must be a lively contender

13. MAX OCCAGNES - Came home 7th in a Class C at Vincennes over 2,850m on 16 October. Did win his last start at the course and he is starting to come back to form after a dry spell. He will start on the second row but has a place chance

Summary: HARPY (4) has a lot going for him as he has performed well at a high level in Scandinavia and is also proven in recent runs at Vincennes. The one to beat. KAXIG IN (8) had an excellent comeback race at this course and has run in stronger fields. JEWEL DE BANVILLE (6) should be at his peak for this race and should have a say in the finish. DOMENIK JET (10) will need a good start to overcome his position on the second row, while DESTINO DJ (3) was a runner-up in his last race at this course.
